When off-the-shelf procurement and contract management training programs don't suit your needs, we can offer a customised solution.

We know how important it is to ensure your staff have up to date knowledge and skills relevant to your industry and business needs. One of our most popular services is the development and delivery of custom training programs to meet the individual needs of your organisation, and advance the capability of your procurement team.

Each participant receives a training pack containing the following:

- Customised training manual
- Set of A5 laminated Quick Reference Cards
- PDF copy of the Powerpoint presentation

✓ COST EFFECTIVE

Customised = Value for money

We work with your management team and senior staff to conduct an online survey around knowledge and capability to help determine the focus areas of the training, including templates and documentation requirements. The finished product is a tailored program incorporating practical activities and case studies to address relevant areas, so your investment is spent wisely.

✓ FLEXIBLE OPTIONS

Choose a time that suits your busy schedule

Options include minimum half-day modules, full day seminars, multiple days and we can travel to any location.

✓ IN-HOUSE AVAILABLE

Let us come to you!

We can deliver the training at any location, including in-house presentations to save your business the hassle and expense of travelling staff and time away from the office.

✓ TIME EFFICIENT

Structured for success - in no time at all!

Our goal is to provide effective skills and knowledge to participants in the shortest time possible, so our training is structured to fit into the scheduled time frame.

✓ FOLLOW UP

Let us know how you're going!

We love to hear how our trainees are fairing after attending training with us! We issue a final survey to all participants to ensure their satisfaction with all aspects of the training, and if there are any confusing topics, we will happily follow up with further information. Alternatively, if staff are looking forward to a more advanced course, we can arrange a future program.
